ABOUT A2D PROJECT

A2D Project is a non-profit, non-government organization that works towards improving lives through evidence-informed development practice. It traces its beginnings in late 2000 when a group of like-minded researchers in Cebu, Southern Philippines bonded together with vision to empower civil society organizations and local governments with data to inform better decisions and development programs. Since then, the organization has grown from a small group of researchers to an established organization recognized for its contribution in policy and development research, disaster risk reduction and inclusive development.

OUR VISION

Our current vision is to build a Philippine society that is inclusive, democratic and just. We believe in development that is people-centered geared towards human flourishing.

OUR MISSION

Our mission is to improve lives through the promotion of evidence-based development practice. We are committed to finding innovative alternatives to address poverty, exclusion and inequality in the Philippines.

FOCUS AREAS

- ▶ Disaster Risk Reduction and Climate Change Adaptation
- ▶ Humanitarian Aid and Disasters
- ▶ Gender and Sustainable Development

In the last 5 years, A2D Project has:

- ▶ integrated human trafficking prevention to disaster risk reduction programs;
- ▶ innovated risk assessment using participatory 3-dimensional mapping in Haiyan-affected areas in Northern Cebu;
- ▶ organized a broad coalition to promote disability-inclusive development in the Philippines;
- ▶ enabled community members to participate in disaster risk sensitive shelter planning through integrating science, technology, and local knowledge.

A2D project is a member of:

- ▶ CIVICUS: World Alliance for Citizen Participation
- ▶ Global Network of Civil Society Organizations for Disaster Reduction
- ▶ Disaster Risk Reduction Network of the Philippines
